Draft Basics

On Sunday September 4th, LeagueDAO will hold a live player draft for every division in the 2022 Mega League. Once the clock starts anything can happen.

Mega League Draft Details:

01 Where will the draft take place?

The draft will be held via LeagueDAO's own Draft Application.

02 When is the draft?

Sunday September 4th at 1:00 PM EST

03 Draft format?

We will use the Snake Draft format. This is a serpentine-style fantasy draft format in which team owners each get a turn to select a player. There will be 20 rounds and each team owner will get one pick per round. The order in which teams select players in Round 1 is reversed for each subsequent round.

04 Is there an Auto-Draft option?

Yes. We have built an auto-draft feature in case you cannot take part in the live draft. The app will select the best available player according to the remaining positions your team still needs to fill (so you won't end up with 10 QBs).

Draft Strategies

Team owners competing in the 2022 Fantasy Football Mega League will take part in a live player draft where they will get to select the initial 20 players that make up their roster.

Here are a few strategies from the LeagueDAO team you should keep in mind during your Fantasy Football draft so no matter what happens you come away with a strong team.

Load up on running backs

Running backs are key to a successful fantasy team. A lot of managers prioritize stacking their running backs in the first few rounds before picking up a QB or WR. In a PPR league, look for the RBs that also get pass targets. A 10-yard pass catch is worth $2 x$ the points of a 10-yard rush.

When should you draft a TE?

There are a few top-tier TEs like Travis Kelce and Mark Andrews who are big parts of their team's passing game, but after them there's a big drop off. Unless you're picking up one of the very best, you can wait and find good value TEs in later rounds.

Draft Strategies

Know the League rules

Each league is different, so don't assume you've got it covered. The LeagueDAO Mega League uses PPR scoring, which means point per reception. That's very different from standard scoring which does not reward pass catchers the same way.

Depth

Depth is key in fantasy football. The NFL season is long and there are inevitably going to be injuries that impact your team. If we have learned anything from the past few years of football it is that you can never have enough depth on your roster. Consider backup running backs that sit behind top-tier RBs with a history of injuries, all it takes is one play to make them an RB1. Using a late round pick to add depth can be a difference maker in your league.

Top 100 Players

These are the players the LeagueDAO team feel will have the biggest fantasy impact in the coming season. You'll quickly see that there will be a lot more than 100 players used in your fantasy division/league, but this will at least get your player research started.
